Notes from the February meeting

Scotty with Signs and Banners says that he missed last year's fair on important family business. If you have a sign request, give them to Scotty ASAP. He'll be here April, May, June, July. We do not have direct control over bathroom signage, so if there are concerns about those signs get 'em in soon so we can give 'em to big fairy.
Scottaboy1@hotmail.com

Kimberly with Arts booth says that the arts booth is making a prayer flag string inside the booth with our favorite fair picture. Print out your favorite fair pictures, laminate them, and bring them to the art booth to be hung up in there for a cool pretty spiral of prayer flag pictures. 8.5x11 would be the largest. Nothing to little.

Janet would like people to email or call her planetbubbleuniverse@yahoo.com with suggestions for the 30th anniversary theme. This year's logo will be a large circle with prior years themes in smaller circles in chakra colors around. The design will be ready in April.

Drake says that what's been known as the green space committee is going to try to meet in late February or early March to build a policy around the village's eco-sustainability. Watch the CVDrum for information.

Sue says that spring fling is the first Saturday in May for all fair members. There's a raffle at spring fling that in past years has been to raise money to pay for spring fling. This year the raffle has been highjacked to be a fundraiser for culture jam scholarships with more prizes from more fair artists (juried and not). Tickets available at Sue's Saturday market booth in April (catnip mice, bags, and candles, near the food court) and at the fair office by mail. Your best chance of winning is to buy raffle tickets early, you can still buy things the night of culture jam for a chance at the big prizes. It's May 7th, 7:00, featuring the Eagle Park Slim band with guests.

Joules Graves

Within 48 hours we had 36 applications for 12 performance spots in the village. Joules Graves responded to the request to play. She stipulated that in order to be able to come to the fair, she needs a camping pass for herself and an attendant and a vehicle pass. We don't usually have camping passes for performers. Next month Bob will bring a proposal to the village that allows us to make Joules a village worker for one year by having her give a workshop in the village. The passes would be at our cost. The vehicle pass would come from the Spoken Word program. The meeting and work-party requirements would be waived.

35th anniversary party

This month's Theatre of Change newsletter is interactive. There's a small strip to fill out and return with answers to a poll question, "What should our Saturday Theme be".

Restaurant Committee

The Restaurant Selection Process Committee is meeting and trying to decide when to meet. The meeting is at Jen-Lin's house. The scope of the committee is to

- 1) create an application and business plan
- 2) create a timeline for the process
- 3) how often do we want to put the village and OCF through this process
- 4) selection criteria *should we ask people with conflicts of interest to not participate in the decision?
- 5) decision criteria (village history, 501c3, organic, local, opportunities to earn a meal)
- 6) Who gets to choose at the village level. Should people with conflicts of interest not participate?
- 7) Do we vote by individual, booth?
- 8) Do we include kids in the process? How?
- 9) Could we have a "by reservation, at our cost" tasting for the community village?
- 10) Email jenlinjo@gmail.com if you have other concerns, or come to the next meeting.

Much of the meeting was discussion of a revised Council Selection Process. That discussion will continue in April.

Council is compiling these results and will bring them to the meeting in May 2011 Saturday Theme Poll - Which of these is your choice for a theme for Saturday of Fair? We would all try to dress to the theme, and do something in each booth to visualize the theme. Choose two themes, and/or write in your own ideas. Tear off and turn in to Keith tonight!!
